

We invited "Shlofta" to host our group event (~120 people) and it turned out to be one of the funniest activities we have ever done!

In addition to great orchestration of the event (flowless operation of a large-scale online event and great responsiveness from the Shlofta team during the planning phase), the activity itself was amazing!

It was super funny (I had tears of laughter in my eyes in one of the sessions), creative and bonding.

I highly recommend companies to do this activity that increases creativity, encourages out-of-the-box thinking and is just pure fun.

I still get great feedbacks on the activity a month later....

Thanks Shlofta! And hope to have another activity with you in the future

Liron Kachko, Senior Engineering Manager, Microsoft.